

Nate Page
Artist Statement

Nate Page generates site-specific installations, sculpture and actions that explore the relations between perception and experience. Working in the realm of our everyday environments Page finds metaphors in the relations between architecture, landscape and the body. Using the existing constructs such as material, utility, scale and historical context, Page seeks symbolic clarity in the elements he works with to heighten our awareness and create resonance. Page is particularly interested in exploring the power dynamic between representation and tactile experience and uses strategies of plausibility and the absurd to create artwork that can be both autonomous representation and an inhabitable functional experience.
