

Nate Page
Artist Statement

Nate Page makes site-specific installations, sculpture and actions to explore our visceral experience of space. Working in the realm of our everyday environments Page finds metaphors in the relationships between architecture, landscape and the body. Using the site's existing material, utility, scale and historical context, Page creates sensual and symbolic adjustments that heighten our experience and perception of place. Page is particularly interested in exploring the power dynamics between mind and body, nature and the man-made, individual and the group and uses strategies of everyday construction and absurd relationships to create a poetic artwork that can be both monumental and interactive.
